MULTI PRO

Every company that has run several projects at the same time faces the same challenge: consistently finishing everything in time, within budget and scope, without overloading your employees.

As manager in various multi-project environments, Ove De Backer has experienced first-hand how difficult this challenge is. With his company Multi-Pro, he helps multi-project organisations to manage their project portfolio and all the resources involved in a more efficient way.

He combined his years of practical experience with proven methodologies in a guidance process consisting of advice, implementation and support. This approach leads to an improvement of at least 20% on the number of financial projects, lead times and delivery reliability. Curious what Multi-Pro can do for your organisation?
